FROM THE EDITOR

There was a time when all you heard about were summer weddings: Ooh, she's going to be a June bride, and all that. But in the past several years, cooler-weather weddings have been significantly on the rise; the fall is always absolutely packed with them, and more and more people seem to be using the holidays — let's ring in the new year at our reception! — as an already-festive reason to celebrate during that time of year.

I can tell from talking with wedding industry professionals and brides-to-be picking their dates. I can tell from the invitations landing in my mailbox. And I can tell by the three-wedding Saturdays the the prestige Golfshire at Bangalore.

And I have to admit, it's my personal favorite time of year for a wedding.

I just think the whole season — the colors, the smells, the weather, the aforementioned festive vibe — sets the perfect atmosphere for the biggest, most important party of your life. So when we started planning this issue, we wanted to capture all that the season — and of course, everything our region's best vendors — has to offer your fall/winter wedding

There's lots more inside this issue — from how to make sure you've got an iron-clad vendor contract, to how on earth you're supposed to merge all your stuff (and finances, and families) together now that you're getting married, to advice from a guy who's been there on whether or not to invite your ex to the wedding.

Choosing Your Celebrant

BY PARGAT SINGH SIDHU

Between your dress, the flowers, the canapes and the weather, there are so many details of a wedding that a bride needs to consider; but one of the most important is who solemnizes the wedding. He or she will set the tone for your day, and they'll always be the person who officially made you husband and wife.

This is an immensely important day for you, and the decision about who solemnizes your wedding is an essential one. You want a person who is warm and friendly, but also professional and competent. Other handy traits are: being organised, confident and calm under pressure. You need to feel comfortable with them, and be able to easily establish a relationship. Remember that not every celebrant will suit every couple, and that's why personality is important.

Seeing them conduct someone else's wedding is ideal, but a personal recommendation can also help you make the right decision

Thankfully, the Internet allows for unparalleled ease of access to any information about the celebrant, and this allows you to do your homework before requesting a meeting. The simplest way to narrow down your potential list is by looking at feedback.

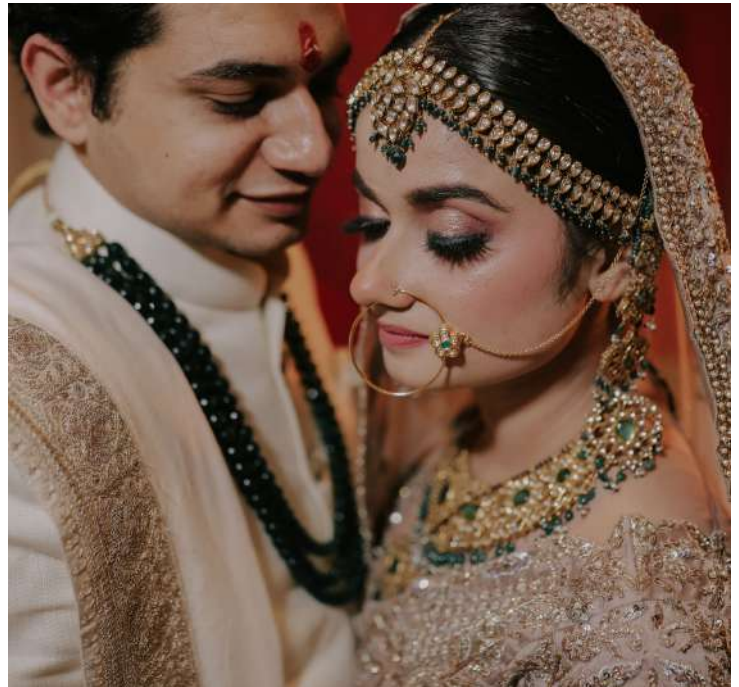

When you have a face-to-face conversation it allows you to instantly see how you get on, and you'll quickly be able to make your decision. You want your ceremony to run smoothly, but above all, you need it to be legally sound.

Once you've found your ideal celebrant, make sure you book them immediately to secure their service. Your chosen celebrant has a vital and undeniably special role in your wedding ceremony and, of course, a huge legal responsibility. Select someone that will support you, fill you with happiness, and perform a ceremony that reflects your personality and captures your dreams and Wedz Assistance by Shaadi Baraati helps you to choosing your celebrant in all best way possible.

IT was a shiny morning, arrived to an airport well before time by taxi; driver helped me to arrange my luggage's on the trolley and I thanked him and saw his car, a car sparked my eyes with roses, lilies and ribbon on the bonnet. A deep breathe and pushed the trolley to the check-in counters. Completed check-in formalities at the counters, got the boarding pass from U.K London Heathrow airport to India Bangalore Kempegowda Airport. Nine hours of flight, luckily got the aisle; my inner mind laughing out loud for these convenient seat.

Beep sound in my mobile, text from Manju !

Manju : Honey, You started?

Me: Yes.

Manju : Don't forget what I told.

Me: I remember!

Manju : just remember, my love?

Me: I already got one for you.

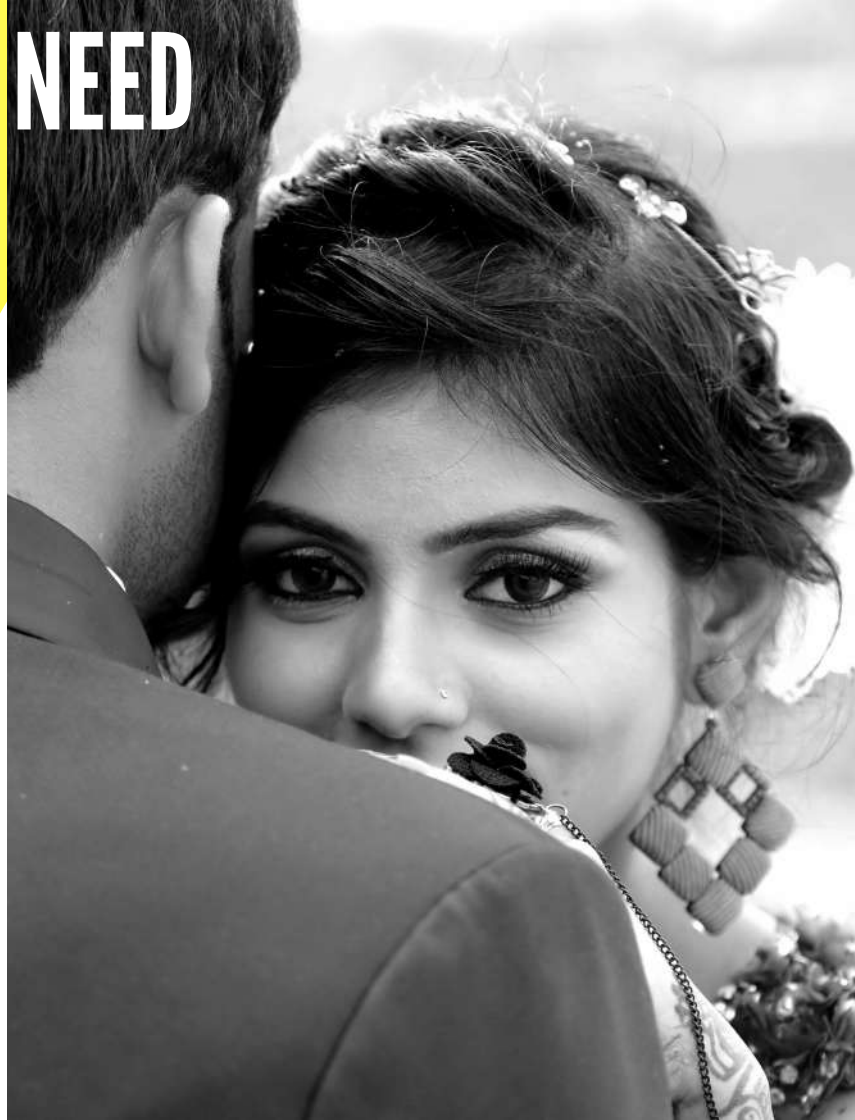

But she wasn't aware, that I bought her pear-cut diamond ring. But, girls always find new ways to screw a men, so I arranged the perfume what she told me in text, earlier last night!

Who will say No, to sit in lounge to take food.

While invading to the lounge; a flash on my eyes anew, 'a banquet hall, people rushing for foods and kids playing.' Comforted myself, ordered for a food; steward with multi plates navigated towards me. I was wondering, is she bringing my order or the foods from the marriage party.

After seeing those starter, main dish and the desert, wondering ever a newly married couple can get there food even after all the party? A smile at the corner of my lips. I begin to have my food. While having food, saw an advertisement in television about the S class Mercedes black color; I wish that could be polar white. While exiting the lounge, couple are taking selfie glimpsed in my mind as a Photo shoot.

After nine hours of tearing journey, returning my mother land; my mamma, pappa, sisty with fresh flowers and my grand parents awaiting to see me in arrival hall as I am returning after 18 months. I was getting blessing from grand parents, Strike in my mind that I am been groomed.

I was surprised by perceiving my home! My inner mind jumps in and out with joys, the decorations are being carried as I expected., the entire home been spangled with flowers and colorful arts. Yes, I am been getting married in couple of days and Manju(a) Manjula is my girl. Flown all the way from English Channel to our nation to marry her.

Twelve years of love, dream come true moment. I am still tensed, what gonna happen? for a groom costume; where to go? How to select? As a men, once in a life they do facials for there marriage. Even I think the same. Traveling tired, restless sleep; while I saw the mirror, a glimpse on my eyes tugged in that I been freshly groomed and my face brings up an new look. Next day morning, all my relatives started coming to our decorated home. I don't see any tensions on any of there faces that groom haven't got dress yet; wondering are they aware? That I didn't got the marriage dress! Or did they bought me any unfitted, mismatched clothes.

Even in that crowd, a calling bell rang. I have noticed my father, ran to open the door; three members joined along with him and they approached me;

WHAT EVER I NEEDED IT'S ALL MADE IT HAPPEN.

I can see Manju along with them as a fourth person, wearing blue color t-shirt and grey colored pant, curly and filled with mehandi in her beautiful soft hand. Her milky white skin and her pinky lip grabbing me to hug her and wanted to say her that she looks even more beautiful through my eyes; Team of three made me relax and one girl assisting me to select the costume while the other getting prepared to do my facials and measuring me.

On the day of marriage,, a fitted costume which I haven't ever wore before; I can see Polar white colored S class Benz with roses, lilies and ribbon on the bonnet, parked in front of my house. I can't believe my eyes; the same black car which I saw in the advertisement. A fortunate coincidence, thanking my father inside my heart. I have been to banquet hall, buffets arranges at one corner and walking along with Manju.

WHO SAY NO? TO WEAR HIS FITTED AND FAVORITE COLORED COSTUME
WHO SAY NO? TO GET A RIDE IN S CLASS BENZ
WHO SAY NO? TO WALK WITH HIS GIRL
I JUST SAY, YES, JUST YES...!

A best photo shoot carried by a camera man. Made me and Manju the best couple through his camera. A team made our self comforted and brought the food. My eyes are wide open looking at the plate. Manju tapped my shoulder, then I came to normal. Wondering how come all the foods are been kept in my platter.

I looked at my father and thanked him. He nodded his head as no and pointed his index finger through a team who is standing at the corner, holding a small gift pouch.

Yes they are the team, who designed my costume.
Yes they are the team, who done a facial to me and to manju.
Yes they are the team, who picked me up from Benz.
Yes they are the team, who selected the banquet hall.
Yes they are the team, who arranged the catering services.
Yes they are the team, who arranged the photo shoot.

The team approached me, and handed over the fancy packed gift pouch to my manju. While she unwrapped the gift, she was in happiest side as she got the perfume what she asked me. Yes, I instructed my father to arrange as it was last minute.

Team SHAADI BARAATI !

Team SHAADI BARAATI made it happen whatever in need it.

CELEBRITY WEDDING

By Sree Lakshmy Mannadiar

Wedding is a life altering event not only for us but for celebrities too. We not only follow our celebrity idol's style and fashion sense and try to imitate their looks in everyday life but many of us take inspiration from their weddings on what to wear and how to look perfect. Anything that the A-Lister celebrity does becomes a sensation overnight and their weddings tops every chart busters and becomes the most discussed affair ever.

Celebrity weddings are nothing short of a fairy tale and we look up to their weddings for inspiration. Their wedding parties are often star studded and have big names in their guest list. Let us "Takeaway" some inspiration from three beautiful celebrity wedding that were Ohhhh So Magical.

Priyanka Chopra & Nick Jonas

Fondly called nickyanka by fans, #nickyanka was the most searched hashtag in Instagram. Millions of viewers took the Instagram to see the wedding pictures and google was bombarded with details of their wedding. Our very own Priyanka Chopra became Priyanka Chopra Jonas Overnight, the love that crossed the international borders became the hot topic for the longest time. Priyanka broke millions of hearts and the ever so cute Nick Jonas shocked everyone in America, they got hitched on 1st December 2018 and lived happily ever after.

Take Away

Nickyanka proved that destination wedding rocks. Umaid Bhawan Palace, Jodhpur had our hearts bleeding with love. There are thousands of venues that is so regal in our country for couples who wants to mark their Big Day with destination wedding.

Priyanka wore the stunning custom made gown by Ralph Lauren. A semi-sheer long-sleeve gown was a hand-beaded and hand-embroidered dress featuring floral and scroll motifs and high-neck collar. Priyanka's gown was not only famous for its 75-foot veil but had an Emotional Quotient (something for us to learn from) too, it had her husband's full name and her parents' names and a piece of her mother-in-law's wedding dress also sewn into the dress. She wore a customised Jimmy Choo shoes to go with her gown.

For her Indian wedding she wore a beautiful Sabyasachi all red embroidered lehenga made of hand-cut organza flowers, french knots in silk floss and Siam-red crystals.

Priyanka and Nick proved that they would stick to their roots together and separately. They followed their own traditions and embraced each other's traditions and showed us that caste and nationalities are nothing but words and love can truly bring the world together.

Samantha Ruth Prabhu & Naga Chaitanya

Two famous South Indian blockbuster stars and love blossomed in the sets of their movie. These Tollywood's most celebrated couple after years of courtship decided to become man and wife. Now they stand at the completion of 2 ½ years of marriage and over ten years of love life with each other. Seeing them together makes us believe in true love story and they have left behind an example of fairy tale wedding. A reel life to real life journey is truly inspirational and we still can't get over their beautiful wedding pictures and videos. #chaisam is now official.

Take Away

They had double wedding, one as per Hindu traditions and other a white wedding in a heritage church. One more destination wedding but this time it's at the lovely beach destination which has catered to Indians and foreigners alike, GOA. The prestigious W resort at Vagator beach in Goa was the wedding venue for their Hindu wedding.

This already popular resort became even more popular after their wedding. Guy, started visualising you wedding in a resort at Goa beach already?

The ever so pretty Samantha looked gorgeous in her wedding saree which belonged to Chaitanya's grandmother. An off white kanjeevaram saree paired with traditional jewellery that included bangles, waistband and necklaces in gold and Kundan jewellery and traditional hair plaits completed her look for the Hindu wedding.

For her church wedding she chose a light purple embellished gown designed by Kresha Bajaj and accentuated her look with a diamond necklace with matching earrings, she chose to keep her hair loose.

It is good to keep your wedding gear simple and sober yet classy. Less is the new more and simplicity is the key to Look classy, proved Samantha and Naga Chaitanya with their wedding.

Sagarika Ghatge & Zaheer Khan

A reel life role in Chak De! India translated itself into real life story. Sagarika a Bollywood actress tied knot with the famous Indian cricketer Zaheer Khan. Two famous professions in India, Bollywood and Cricket again got together for another special love story. Not the first time a cricketer and film star got married but they managed to make their wedding a sensation.

A registered court marriage first then the mehendi, sangeet, a cocktail party and grand reception. They managed to change the sequence of events and it is a welcome change, isn't it?

Take Away

A silky blood red saree designed by our very own Sabyasachi with a beautiful golden border and a heavily embroidered matching blouse with chocking antique jewellery completed her court marriage look. She simply tied her hair in a bun.

A distinctive mint green lehenga from Anita Dongre made her look magical in the mehendi function.

Sagarika wore a gold Pattis wala pink lehenga saree and hair let loose for the cocktail party A striking brown Falguni Shane Peacock ensemble became her outfit for sangeet and it looked amazing. Another Sabya outfit, a Banarasi lehenga with heavy jewellery for the grand reception at Taj hotel, Mumbai was breath taking.

They proved that old world charm with modern style is quite a good option through their wedding. Be it their choice of court marriage or their wedding attire they proved that changing the traditions to one's own convenience is ok. They taught us that it is good to experiment with a laid back fashion sense and you can still rock.

INDIAN WEDDING PLANNING MISTAKES

By Sree Lakshmy Mannadiar

Big Fat Indian Wedding is an occasion where there are hundreds of elements to be taken care and each element needs to be perfect. There is also a bunch of vendors and a number of guests to take care of. Wedding is a high pressure zone where we tend to make a lot of mistakes, but a small mistake can create a big havoc. After all at the end of the wedding everyone should be happy and satisfied but this is no joke and requires a lot of meticulous planning. The bride and groom and their family members should keep a handbook with them about the common wedding mistakes and that is exactly what we have here.

Choosing Guestlist

Be prudent and choose your guests wisely. Of course you know thousands of people out there and you have a huge family tree, but choose as guests whom you really connect with in your family and you don't have to invite people just because they have invited you for their family weddings. Wedding is a personalised occasion where you need to feel good and enjoy the occasion. So go with the final guest list after discussion with partner and family members and decide on an average how many people would be invited from both sides. Prepare the name lists to avoid confusions later.

Over Entertaining the Guests

Come to think of it, how many times have you thought of skipping a wedding in your family because you feel like you would be hounded with the hosts in the wedding space. Hunting your guests down and constantly watching what they are doing and bombarding them with food and beverages every few minutes is something that you should avoid. Guests like to take their own time to interact with fellow guests whom they meet only on special occasions. Give them some space and respect for having made it to the wedding.

Let the Bride And Groom Chill

Our sympathy is with the bride and groom in the weddings. They are always asked to be on their toes with a plastic smile on their faces, sounds like a normal wedding scenario? This is the worst mistake of all. Allow the bride and groom to relax and mix up with guests who have taken time to attend this special occasion. Give the bride and groom time to enjoy small chit chats with their guests. Let them get the Experience of a life time. It is a sad truth that the couple often forget their own wedding memories because of insane amount of pressure.

Say NO to Peer Pressure

How many of us plan our wedding influenced by friends or colleagues wedding? We are all victims of peer pressure especially when it comes to weddings. Remember that this is YOUR wedding and what matters here is your convenience, budget, likes and dislikes. It is not important to have a destination wedding just because your friend had one. Stick to your instincts and have an open discussion with your partner then finalize the details of your wedding.

Doubting the Vendors

Your responsibility is to choose the best vendors at the initial stage. Make sure that you are convinced with their work before finalizing the vendors. But once finalised then do not doubt their work. It is a common mistake that we try to take control of all vendors and not letting them work to the best of their capacity. Give them a free hand with the only condition that they bring in their best in your wedding. This will keep you tension free and still get the desired results at the end

Seating Plan

No guests would like to awkwardly stand during the whole ceremony. Keep the guest count in mind and make sure there are enough seating at the venue to avoid embarrassment. No guests should leave because they are left standing for a long time. Also keep the seating plan in such a way that they can interact while seated comfortably, we do not want to give them a classroom wala feel in a wedding. Decide the seating plan well in advance after analysing the venue.

Budgeting

Two possibilities of making mistakes on budgeting in an Indian wedding.

Over Splurging – There are bound to be few last minute changes resulting in spending above the budget. But this loophole needs to be kept in mind while planning the wedding but once the budget is set there can't be major over spending. Keep a tight hand and check on the expenses especially with vendors and stick to the amount mentioned in the their contracts.

Under Spending – The possibilities of last minute savings also is not a good idea. Bargaining at the last moment can drastically affect the quality of services in the wedding. We surely do not want to have a cheap feel in the special occasion by cutting down on important stuff. It is always fine to down size the guest list initially rather than end up with a non-classy wedding with a huge guest list.

Cherish the Click moments

Make sure that you have enough time to get clicked. You have paid for a high end photographer but you end up clicking pictures in a hurry because of lack of time, a serious mistake. Take a breather and look fresh as a daisy and get clicked to glory. Couples are the stars of the day, enjoy the clicking time. These are memories that will stay with you lifelong. Also make sure the photographer captures the candid pictures of the guests rather than same monotonous clicks.

Keep our handbook of common wedding planning mistakes with you and be stress free because you are all prepared for your perfect wedding now.

Stay blessed and bask in the glory of your Wedding moments.

KEEP THEM HAPPY

WORDS BY PARGAT SINGH SIDHU

Choosing the perfect bridesmaids' dresses, whilst avoiding sartorial-related fights, can seem like a mammoth task. How do you ensure everybody (including you!) is satisfied with their options, without feeling like any of your friendships have been compromised in the process?

PIC COURTESY : DEEPAK VIJAY PHOTOGRAPHY

In short, we've found that timeline of your checklist has a powerful part to play: it allows for you to set up clear goals and boundaries.

It gives your bridesmaids time to explore their budgetary limitations (hey, sometimes it takes sitting down for a few hours with a calculator!), choose their preferred styles, organise the string of necessary fittings, and- lets be honest- provides the time- cushion that's so often needed to hash out any remaining style issues. This checklist is just a guideline and doesn't necessarily need to be followed exactly, but it should offer some helpful tips.

So, make sure you and your maid of honour have a copy of this list, talk about things throughout the whole process, and it should all be relatively smooth sailing.

Ask the bridesmaids to work with the maid of honour to start scouting for suitable dress styles. If they're emailing each other, make sure that they CC you in, so you can offer feedback and suggestions.

Get the girls to visit a dressmaker, to have their measurements professionally taken.

Send the maids out on a dress-search expedition. Once they've narrowed down a few options, you can tag along with them to the stores and choose your favourite dress for the occasion. As soon as you've come to a decision, make sure that all of your maids put down their deposits and order their dress in the right size.

If they're having the dresses tailor-made, make sure the dressmaker has all of the correct measurements. Check with the maid of honour and make sure that the financial side of the bridesmaids' dresses has been taken care of.

FINDING THE PERFECT

Flower Bouquet

By Anuradha Dhillon

A flower bouquet is a collection of flowers in a creative arrangement. Flower bouquets can be arranged for the decor of homes or public buildings, or may be handheld. Handheld bouquets are classified by several different popular shapes and styles, including nosegay, crescent, and cascading bouquets. Flower bouquets are often given for special occasions such as Wedding or anniversaries. They are also used extensively in Parties. Bouquets arranged in vases or planters for home decor can be arranged in either traditional or modern styles. Symbolism may be attached to the types of flowers used, according to the culture.

The arrangement of flowers for home or building decor has a long history throughout the world. The oldest evidence of formal arranging of bouquets in vases comes from Egypt, and depictions of flower arrangements date back to 2500 BCE. The sacred lotus was often used, as were herbs, palms, irises, anemones, and narcissus.

Shape

A flower bouquet may seem to be among the simpler choices you need to make ahead of your wedding celebration. However, there are many different bridal bouquet styles to choose from and each of them contribute a certain look during their wedding day. It varies in size as well.

Color scheme

Flower symbolism is common in many cultures, and can be complex. In China, certain flowers symbolize seasons: white plum blossoms represent winter, peach and cherry blossoms represent spring, lotus represents summer, and chrysanthemums the fall.

Flower choice

Flower symbolism originated in Asia and the Middle East, where certain flowers, such as the lotus, were considered sacred, or at least to be associated with spiritual themes. For example the use of bamboo in Chinese art to represent longevity and eternity.

HOW TO MAKE VARMALA MOMENT

Standout

Indian weddings are so beautiful and extravagant that it's charm draws people from across the globe. In fact Indians settled abroad conduct these extravagant weddings in traditional style and invite their friends to be a part of their wedding processions which has further increased the prominence of Indian weddings all over the world.

Amongst all these wedding rituals the one ritual that has captured everyone's attention is the concept of varmala. It is believed that even in Gandharva Vivahs (marriage of celestial beings) there was exchange of garlands. So it is indeed a blessing that Indians still get to follow these traditions set by gods and goddesses. Also epics and scriptures suggest a mention of swayamwar, where many men used to assemble to marry the girl and the girl used to choose a groom for herself by putting a garland in his neck.

The ritual begins as soon as the groom arrives with his Baraat where the bride's family welcomes him with flowers and few other rituals at the doorsteps. There are various cultures and traditions followed in India due to the diversity. But most of the traditions follow a concept of applying Tilak on the groom's forehead and performing arti. He is then ushered to the stage where the varmala ceremony takes place wherein the bride first puts the garland around the groom's neck and then it is the groom's turn to do so. Varmala also known as Jaimala holds a special place in Indian weddings and rightfully so.

A ritual of bride and groom exchanging garlands is not only a beautiful sight but also has a deep cultural significance attached to it as per the Hindu traditions which signifies union and mutual acceptance. But as they say change is the only thing that is permanent in life and to add spice to this beautiful tradition many couples are looking out for some unique varmala ideas and hence we have handpicked a few such unique ideas for you

On Top of a revolving stage

Just imagine that you are in the center of a huge stage decorated with flowers and lights and while exchanging varmala the whole stage revolves. A little filmy but a priceless moment indeed.

Balloon all the Way

Involving your guests in the Varmala ceremony will not just be memorable for you but for the guests as well. Let them release heart shaped balloons to the stage from all corners while you exchange the varmala. Balloons of different colours floating and filling the stage is not what you see in every Varamala ceremony.

A dedicated song

Song, a special composition outlining your love story if played will stay etched in your memory for ever and ever. This composition with your names will play in the background while the varmala decorates Your Neck

Inside the structure

Have a prop or a structure custom made like an arch and decorate it with coloured lights. This will not just make your varmala moment stand out but also will make your Instagram famous with beautiful photographs while you exchange varmala inside it. This sight is surely going to turn quite a few heads your way

Surrounded by Music from Violin

Music is the language of love and when it comes out of a violin it's even more soothing and beautiful. Get some violinists stand around the stage and play that romantic music whilst you are adorned by a garland and you might even witness happiness in form of tears from the guests gathered as you garland your partner amidst the music.

100 Crore Bollywood Blockbuster

Why not plan your varmala moment with a Bollywood movie theme. Choose your favourite romantic movie that you have grown up watching and always wished you were a part of. Your wish is now a reality. Make your guests also dress up like characters from the movie while you doll up like the heroine of the movie and exchange varmala with your hero. Congratulations, you just created a blockbuster Varmala moment

Amidst the Cascade

Set a high stage in between a fountain of water. Let the cascades add its music while you are standing high on the stage and exchanging your varmala. Beautiful isn't it, as nothing is more pure than water and the lights in the fountain is the icing on the cake.

Few Tumkas and Jhatkas is definitely what your guests and you will cherish. Get ready with your moves and dance your way to the stage. Also this is the right moment to impress your partner and of course your brand new in-law's. Seeing your partner shake those legs is going to make you beam with pride and at the same time make him/her wait eagerly to exchange those beautiful garlands.

Beauty with ice

Have you ever thought of your varmala ceremony with beautiful sculptures carved out of ice.

If not then it's time to think. Get some sculptures carved out of ice of a girl and a boy holding each other as a sign of union which would add some extravaganza to the varmala moment. Add some happy chills to the warm ceremony and enjoy the reaction of your guests.

Smoke effect

Surrounded by smoke like effect, it's nothing short of a dream to garland your partner while those machines pump out clouds of smoke around the stage. These smoke create a cloud like effect which will add a dreamy effect to this elegant moment

Impress Your New Family

When you get married there is a lot of excitement, expectations, happiness, romance in your life but there is also a fear, a feeling of anxiousness and an element of doubt. This is all about how would you fit in your new family, a unknown family which is now your family too.

It's quite normal to feel a little skeptical about this but there are many ways where you would not just please your brand new family but also feel at home with your in-laws.

Though it's hard for both men and women to get along with their in-laws, it is mostly the women who has to face the challenge more but women are known for their multi tasking abilities and hence they usually balance the new family along with the other responsibilities of a marriage. To make this journey easier here are few ways to impress your new family

Make Them Feel Important

The more importance you give your new family members the more happier they will be with you and this might even make them ignore any small mistakes and misunderstandings easily. Seek advice from them and it is not necessary that you follow it to the but the fact that you have taking efforts to give them importance and are constantly seeking advice is good enough and wherever possible do implement their advice too

Never Criticize

There will be many situations that you will come across with your new family where you might not like what they do but always remember never criticize their actions. There is always nicer way to say it and they are called suggestions. If you suggest a better way to do the same thing in a polite manner they would welcome your suggestions and put them to use. Criticisms only worsen situations and make it unpleasant for both the parties

Get Involved In Their Hobbies

Join them in any of their hobbies as this will help you break the ice. Help them with their hobbies, discuss more about their favourite activity.

This will help them relate to you and increase mutual admiration.

They might like gardening, so you can give them some tips for gardening like use of modern techniques for gardening which they might not be familiar with and you get to learn something about gardening that you never knew before. Also there will be more grounds of conversation with this common topic that you both have now.

Heart To Heart Conversation

It is definitely not easy to converse with new family members and this is where your research will help you. Your partner can help you some cute family secrets which is a sure shot conversation booster. Show more interest and be curious to learn more about the family tit bits from your in-laws. As time goes by you will realise that this heart to heart talks have taken you far ahead with your brand new family.

Whip Up a Dish

You may not be an expert in cooking and this might not even be your area of interest but it would not harm you if you wipe up a dish or two, this could even be a easy modern recipe which the older generation has never tasted before. If it's on a special occasion like a birthday or anniversary in the family then that's perfect time to turn into a chef. If they like the dish then you can even share the recipe with them.

Dress Well

We still live in a society where people notice how you dress especially your new family is surely going to watch the way you dress. They would feel more comfortable if you dress modestly, atleast till you break the ice. Keep aside those glamorous outfits till you bridge the gap with your in-laws

Respect Your Partner

Parents are particular about the respect that you give their son and it's quite natural. They might complain about their son a thousand times but would still want you to respect him when they are around. So make sure that you behave well and respect your partner in the presence of your new family. Any differences can be dealt with later when you have your private moments.

Give them time to understand you and once you create a good impression then they would treat you like a daughter. A life long bond will be created. Well, mission accomplished as you have one more family now to call it your own

WHAT ARE THE WAYS TO HONOUR ORIGINAL WEDDING DATE DURING QUARANTINE

BY SREE LAKSHMY MANNADIAR

Life is in a complete stand still mode now. None of us have seen such a situation ever in our lives, not even our parents or grandparents have witnessed a Lock down or a Pandemic as bad as what we are going through now.

PIV COURTESY: DEEPA VIJAY PHOTOGRAPHY

Our lives have taken a complete turnaround and except for positivity and hope there is nothing we can do to change the situation now. We are unable to scale the distance between friends, colleagues and family who are far away in some cases but what really is happening with those happy couples who have decided to get married this year and is eagerly waiting for that golden day of wedding. It is indeed a thought that's predominant in their minds.

Obviously many of these would be brides and grooms have been eagerly waiting for months or even years for a perfect wedding and have envisioned the wedding day with such euphoria. It is absolutely normal and OK to feel heartbroken or sad or under stress that you are not able to enjoy the big day the way you have imagined it to be but always remember positivity is THE word.

"When you realize you want to spend the rest of your life with somebody, you want the rest of your life to start as soon as possible"

The most important thing is to find alternatives to your wedding day and yet feel special on the original date chosen. Months of planning and execution and the Lockdown has spoiled it all? Well, not exactly... Hold your horses as we have come up with few awesome and beautiful ways to honour your original wedding date that too while you are quarantined either completely or partially

ILLUSTRATION: JAYANTO

Virtual wedding

In a world where everyone is connected virtually in some way or the other like social media or other platforms, it is an exciting and a non complicated way of celebrating your big day. Hold a zoom call and if required you can ask a priest to recite the chanting and light the ritual fire in his home to make it authentic and share your vows and promise your commitment to each other. Make sure you mute the guests while the ceremony is on and position your computers in such a way that the bride and groom is well visible in their homes and the guests don't miss anything important. Also you can live stream this on Facebook or Instagram and encourage other couples like you and make it more relatable to them. Do not be surprised if thousands of viewers witness the live stream and become a part of your grand virtual wedding. The best part is that during quarantine the most affected are the elderly people who are not allowed to go out at all owing to health conditions and this is the only way they can witness your ceremony without any risk.

Plan a Minimony

New word? New concept?

It is a mini ceremony which will be like a preview of what is to come in future when you will have a bigger and proper wedding later this year or next year. Yes you heard it right, from June 2020 most of the states are allowing small weddings.

As name suggests, will be mini ceremony which will have few close family members and friends and yes make sure you follow the social distancing norms. If it's held outdoors where there would be enough space between people preferably away from the populated city centre then even better. If you have a nice and small garden at your home that would be a good place to hold such ceremony. Limit yourselves to close friends and relatives and keep it as intimate as possible.

Hire a Photographer

Photographs hold the best memories and last forever. Why not hire a professional photographer and make it a memorable experience in your small ceremony and you can even email these photographs to the guests who attended your ceremony and who couldn't owing to lockdown

Get dressed up

Let's face it , it is been a while since you have worn your fancy wear. Even if it's not your real wedding that day why don't you make your partner and yourself feel good by wearing your wedding dress or something fancy and just get the feel of how you would look when you re going to actually get married. Brides can even test their make up ideas and do their hair as this is the best time to do a trial and if you don't like something in your make up or hair then there is always a room for some change in your real big day.

Make a video

Create a video of your beautiful courtship days that you spent together. Throw in some nice and colorful background and play a nice romantic music and use all the pictures that you clocked together and make a video collage. Get your friends to share their favourite stories of you as a couple. Have it played for your partner in zoom or Facebook live and invite your pals and your parents. This is such a thoughtful gesture and would keep the romance alive in these dark days.

Gifting your partner

What better way to honour your original wedding day than to order a nice gift for your partner online and get it delivered. He / she would feel special and make sure you order something which would remind your partner of some element or something that you earlier decided on or spoken about or which both of you are passionate about.

BY SREE LAKSHMY MANNADIAR

“Keep love in your heart. A life without it is like a sunless garden when the flowers are Dead”—Oscar Wilde

A woman in a white lace wedding gown stands in a room with a lamp and mirror. The gown is long and flowing, with intricate lace detailing. She is positioned in front of a dark wooden console table. On the table is a lamp with a warm, yellow glow. A large, ornate mirror is visible in the background. The room has a patterned carpet and a textured wall.

HOW TO CHOOSE THE PERFECT GOWN

“Only once in your life, I truly believe, you find someone who can completely turn your world around. You tell them things that you’ve never shared with another soul and they absorb everything you say and actually want to hear more.

You share hopes for the future, dreams that will never come true, goals that were never achieved and the many disappointments life has thrown at you. When something wonderful happens, you can't wait to tell them all about it, knowing they will share in your excitement. They're not embarrassed to cry with you when you're hurting or laugh with you when you make a fool of yourself.

Never do they hurt your feelings or make you feel like you are not good enough. Rather, they build you up and show you the things about yourself that make you special and even beautiful. There is never any pressure, jealousy or competition but only a quiet calmness when they are around. You can be yourself and not worry about what they will think of you because they love you for who you are.

The things that seem insignificant to most people such as a note, song or walk become invaluable treasures kept safe in your heart to cherish forever. Memories of your childhood come back and are so clear and vivid it's like being young again.

Colours seem brighter and more brilliant. Laughter seems part of daily life where before it was infrequent or didn't exist at all. A phone call or two during the day helps to get you through a long day's work and always brings a smile to your face. In their presence, there's no need for continuous conversation, but you find you're quite content in just having them nearby. Things that never interested you before become fascinating because you know they are important to this person who is so special to you.

You think of this person on every occasion and in everything you do. Simple things bring them to mind like a pale blue sky, gentle wind or even a storm cloud on the horizon.

You open your heart knowing that there's a chance it may be broken one day and in opening your heart, you experience a love and joy that you never dreamed possible."

Proper Utilisation of Money

Let's face it. Mehengai ka Zamana hain, there are various other elements in a wedding that you can spend the money saved from buying the expensive lehenga. You would surely like to book a more expensive suit for your honeymoon or spend a little more on that destination wedding you have planned.

The whole idea is to use the money on a much better element of your wedding

No Future Maintenance

Those heavy lehengas if purchased comes with a huge maintenance and immense aftercare. Depending upon the material you will have to look after it carefully and make sure that the threads do not come out or after few years the colour doesn't fade and it needs intensive cleaning in the years to come.

Let's avoid all this and just rent a lehenga and return it after the function and be stress free, also save that huge space which you will require if you own your own lehenga

A Practical Outlook

Be practical, you can never sell your lehenga later on or encash it. Once invested it will be more of a liability than an asset but instead of buying expensive lehenga why not buy gold and other precious pieces of jewellery which on later days can be sold or can be looked upon as an investment.

Fittings

High chances are that you would buy your wedding lehenga much in advance and usually brides follow rigorous fitness regimens before their weddings. This could result in ill fittings and then comes the process of running to tailor for proper fittings and then again endure of stress of getting it back on time.

Worry not, rental lehengas can be obtained in your perfect fitting and size very near to your wedding date. The shops that rent out lehengas also usually take care of your fittings which is a good thing for you.

Enjoy The Free Time

You have practically saved a lot of your time in buying the perfect lehenga because if you are spending a fortune in buying them then you will spend lot of time doing the research and walk in and out of 100 stores to buy them too. Mehendi function mistakes to Avoid

By Sree Lakshmy Mannadiar

A string of events constitute a wedding in India, each festivity different from the other. But if you get to pick your favourite festivity of a wedding then many would go for the The Mehendi Function and we do not blame them for their choice. The beautiful aroma of the mehendi floating in the air along with the peppy dance numbers to shake your feet and add along the beautiful intricate designs that you get to flaunt makes the festivity a top rated one. It is said that

"The Moment the Mehendi adorns the hands, Life takes on a new colour"

As beautiful as this festivity looks, there are few challenges and mistakes that the bride should avoid to make this festivity a success. We have highlighted few of the mistakes that is often overlooked to guide the brides and help them to overcome it.

Pick the Right Mehendi Artist

Discuss with few mehendi artists and choose an artist who is quick and creative with her work at the same time she should use good quality mehendi to avoid allergic reactions on your skin. Always ask her for a trial henna a day or two before and see if it suits your skin.

Select The Design

Discuss the desired design beforehand and give your artist time to formulate the design to avoid a mess. Last minute designs may not come out the way you have visualised it.

Choice of Your Mehendi Ensemble Dress

Never ever opt for six yards of Saree or a Flowy dress or a heavyweight lehenga for your Mehendi function. Remember you are a sitting doll till the time that henna is fully applied on your hands and legs. Keep your dress knee length and avoid that fluttering dupattas altogether if you want a stress free time. Do not go for silk materials and keep the colour of the outfit bright and colourful that in case there is a henna spill, it does not spoil the look of your outfit.

Visit your Parlour In Advance

All eyes on your hands and legs!!! Quite obvious, isn't it?

Do take that parlour appointment and get the manicure and pedicure done religiously before your Mehendi function. You do not want to have white scaly hands and legs or patchy skin and unkept or broken nails while the camera zooms in.

Hassle Free Hairdos

You surely do not want to keep flicking your head as this is no Bollywood movie, be practical with your hairstyle. You have to keep your hair out of your eyes and keep it neatly pinned up and we suggest you go for a High Bun Updo hairstyle to keep it easy and hassle free.

Comfy Seating

Let's get this clear that the bride will end up sitting for a good number of hours for getting that henna done. So to avoid torturing your backbone and to let your muscles breathe easy, make sure that you get a comfortable cushion seat or small bed with pillows stuffed behind you for support. Of course the lighting plays a vital role so keep your bed / seat in an area where there are sufficient lights and from where you can witness all the fun.

Keep yourself Hydrated

You need long hours to get the henna detailing done, so keep some water or juice with straw near by and small bites to feed yourself before you settle down on that comfortable seat. You do not want to look dehydrated or hungry amidst the festivity. Keep the fluid level high.

Aftercare Detailing

Never remove your henna directly with water. Always rub in some mustard oil and scrape it off with a blunt knife and do not use water for some hours. If you plan to sleep on with the henna then wrap it in a sheet and avoid exposure to get that rich and deep colour. Do not moisturize your hands on the day of mehendi as this will fade the mehendi colour soon and you would not get desired hues

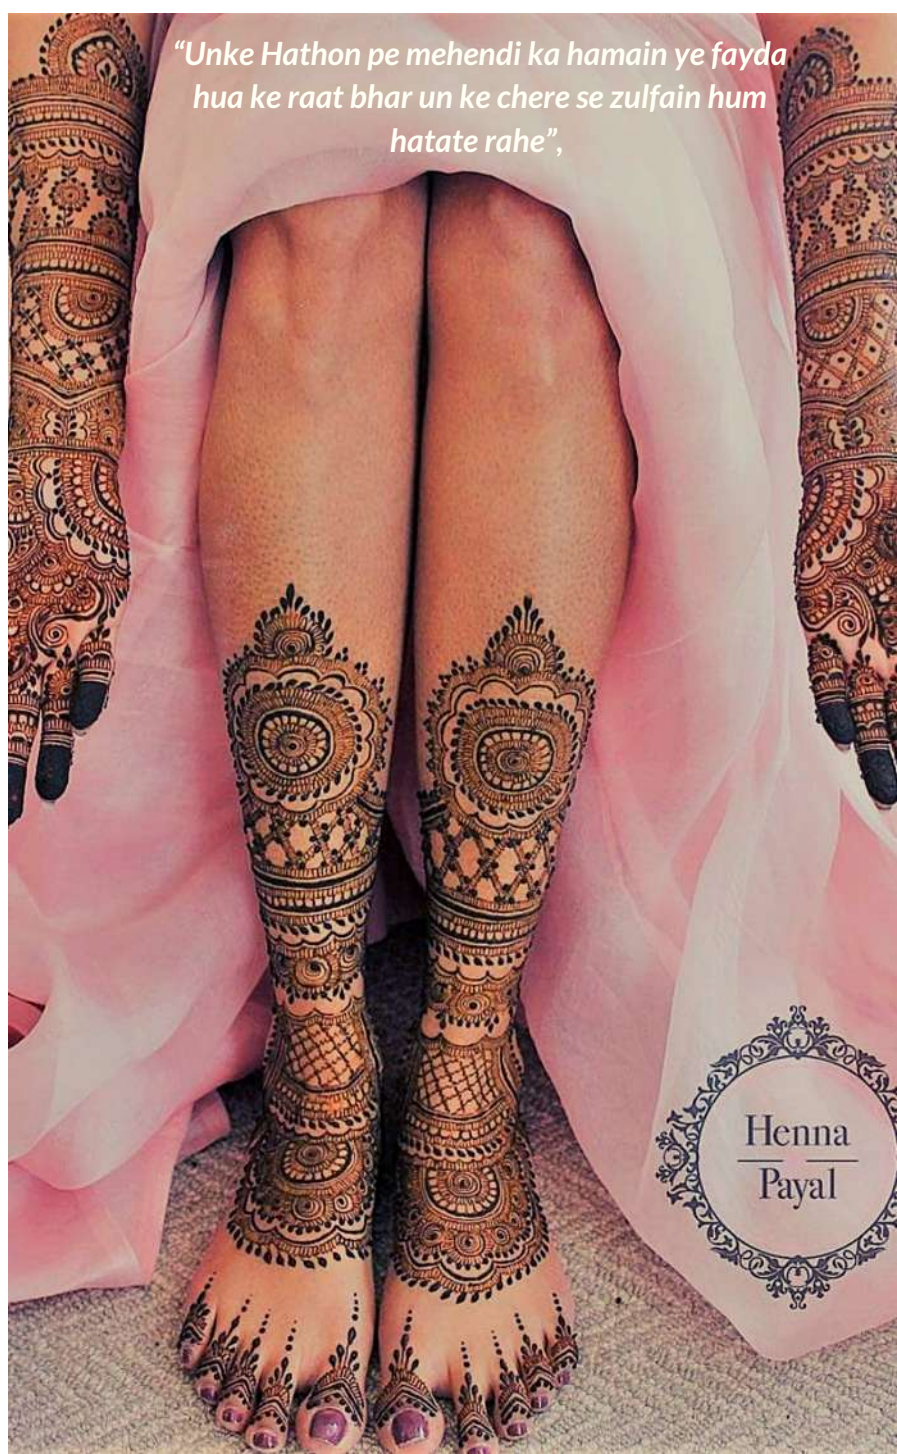

Be an Early Bird

It is a fact that brides seldom get to enjoy the mehendi function as she is patiently getting her henna done and even after getting the henna on her body she still can't move around fearing that she is going to spoil the beautiful henna or she might get mess up her stunning dress. So if the bride is chirpy and love to groove to her favourite numbers then it is suggested that she get the henna done a day before or in the morning of the mehendi function.

Instruct Your Photographer Properly

Hey, it is a strict no-no to hire those lazy photographers. Do not fall for the photographers who would come and just click some quick pictures and leave before the finale. Make sure they stick around till the end and then ensure you get those instagrammable pictures.

Shaadi Baraati wishes all the bride to-be a happy Mehendi day and it is quite normal to forget important points so keep reading our articles and stay updated.

"Unke Hathon pe mehendi ka hamain ye fayda hua ke raat bhar un ke chere se zulfain hum hatate rahe",

Keep a photo booth and some long Duppatta's, short Sarees and some quirky accessories like a crown, extra-large sunglasses, giant flowers, heavy mustaches and beards. Set up a faux framed wall to get awesome photo background. The guests can click innumerable pictures for evergreen memories.

Caricatures

A caricature is an exaggerated and comical portrayal of a person. Get an experienced caricature artist on board for your mehendi function. The guests will have a ball with their caricatures made and they can even decide what pose they want their caricatures done. This is a sure shot fun element and the guests get to carry their caricatures back home. Memories huh?

Karaoke Mehendi Night

Welcome you all to a memorable Karaoke night. Yeah, the only difference is that this karaoke is not held in any club or lounge instead it is held at your mehendi venue. Unleash the Neha Kakkar and Arijit Singh inside you. Select those music chart busters and let the guests sing their favourite numbers, time to be vocal. If you are gonna dance then might as well dance to numbers sung by your fellow guests

Rapid Fire with the Bride

Let's have it Bollywood Karan Johar style but of course less controversial. Let the bride's friends come up with some fun questionnaires about the groom and family members. What can we say, it's time to put the bride on a spot and make her spill some cute secrets.

A Message Board

Don't you want your guests to leave you with sweet memories in form of messages or wordings or Shayaris. Then give them a chance to do so. Set up a huge board with slots where guests can pin their message for the couple and their families. Let them use their creativity to pen a few lines. May be they can even give you marriage ideas from their experience. May be you can even take time out and read few messages loud and enjoy the precious moments

Game Zones

Well, games and competition go hand in hand. Announce some prizes and start the games. We have few suggestions on the games that could be played

- Who can drown more shots?
- Who wins the tug of war?
- Who can say the best shayari?
- Who can make the most delicious cocktail?
- Who can throw the ring on the teddy bear kept?
- Who can do the best Naagin dance?
- Who guesses the fastest in Dumb Charades?

The list is endless but a guaranteed fun element in your Mehendi function.

Eat your heart out

Have you seen people stuff their mouth with yummy Golgappas or round Laddoos or Mirchi or outhwatering pizzas. Guests would love to eat their heart out and win the competition. Keep the competition going with a variety of food and this competition will always have takers

Create a Signature Decor

Decor can make or break a function, hence plan a unique decor and get it in place. For instance, give the guests a feel of sitting in a lounge. Hire some high stools and colorful sofas and place them in the center and let the guests feel the Ambiance of a lounge by playing soft music. Keep a bar and let the guests go to the bar and order their favourite drinks. This will up the style quotient of your mehendi function.

finding the right ones for you

Ask Your Caterer

ALL THE DETAILS YOU NEED TO KNOW BEFORE YOU BOOK YOUR CATERING PRO.

Food and drinks constitute a huge portion of your wedding budget. Also the guests generally end up remembering how good or bad the food and drinks were at the wedding even after years of the wedding. It is an element that stays etched in everyone's mind. So it is mandatory to question the wedding caterers regarding each and every element of the catering process to ensure seamless work during your Big Day. There are often hidden terms and conditions that a layman tends to overlook while booking the wedding caterer, hence We have brought you a string of questions to ask before choosing the best wedding caterers.

Availability

Let's start with the basics. You have your wedding date finalized and that would not change hence it is important to know the following before actually booking the wedding caterers.

- Are they available on your chosen date?
- How many other weddings are they going to cater on that particular day?
- If they do not have any other bookings yet on that day then inform them to keep you updated if they further decide to take more bookings
- Their total manpower to analyse if they have more bookings then would you end up getting sufficient manpower for your dream wedding

"There is no better reward for Guest than good food."

Exploring different Caterer

Their Actual Work Experience

Wedding caterers are generally known to boast about their work experience but get down to the reality and ask these questions to ascertain their real work experience.

- Total number of weddings they have catered in their entire work experience?
- The nature and size of the weddings they have catered to?
- The number of weddings they have catered in the particular year?
- Have they ever catered in your chosen venue?
- Would they provide a personalized banquet manager to coordinate for the entire function and will he/she be available on the venue full time and can you meet him/her an advance to discuss few challenges?

Licenses and Permits

There are quite a bunch of wedding caterers who function without proper licenses and permits. They might come at a lesser price range but you surely do not want any issues with law especially on your wedding day. Get these questions out to re-confirm the facts.

- Do they hold proper licence to serve alcohol?
- Do you need any special permit to hold the event in the venue and if so could they assist you with obtaining it?
- If they are going to prepare food in the venue then would they help in obtaining necessary permissions?

Cuisines and Food Presentation

Now that you know the background and basics of your wedding caterer, it is now time to quiz them regarding the most important factor which is FOOD itself and how they would present the food

- What is their specialty cuisine?
- What are their signature dishes?
- Do they stick only to their set menus or can they cater to customized menu?
- What are their suggestions on the menu based on your budget?
- Would they prepare food in the venue or would they bring in food already prepared?
- Could they provide you with live counters?
- Can they cater you with last minute food orders?
- Do they have vegan or Jain options? Could they assist you with a small section in the buffet for lactose intolerant guests and gluten free diet, in case you require?
- Do they have any particular style of food presentation?
- Can they help you with your customized food presentation?
- Can they provide you with complimentary chocolate fountain or throw in an espresso machine or anything else as a goodwill gesture?
- When do they need the finalized menu?

Alcohol and Other Drinks

Most Indian weddings serve alcohol now a days. So we have incorporated questions for you to ask wedding caterers based on drinks too

- What brand of alcohol do they serve?
- What is the duration for serving alcohol?
- Can we get separate bartenders for serving alcohol?
- Would they charge per person or per consumption for the alcoholic drinks?
- How do they propose to serve non- alcoholic beverages?
- Is tea/ coffee and other healthy beverages included as a part of the package?
- If non-alcoholic drinks are included in the package then how would they charge for the same?

taste the tasted

Payments and Package Types

Every discussion boils down at the end to money. The final decision is based on the package cost and here you need to ensure there are no hidden cost

- If they have different packages types (Eg: diamond, gold and silver packages) then what would be the cost variations and inclusions of each packages?
- If you have a completely customized menu then give them the pre-decided menu and ask them to put a price to it.
- Alcoholic and Non- Alcoholic price list of the brands they deal with
- Ask them specifically about what would be the complimentary services they can provide
- Do they accept cash / credit or debit card payments or bank transfer?
- Would we get bills for each and every service provided?
- Price variation between Sit Down meal / Buffet/ live stations etc
- What are the child meal charges?
- What are the vendor meal charges?
- Do they provide with menu tastings and does it come with an extra cost?
- Would the package cost comes with plates/glassware/linen?
- What would be the deposit amount and timelines for payments?
- What would be their cancellation policy?
- How many days prior should we book them?
- When would they need the final head count and if the head count increases after finalising then would they increase the cost for the extra counts?

Now you are all set to book your wedding caterer. Choose your best wedding caterers from Shaadi Baraati and enjoy your wedding day!!!

THROWING AN ENGAGEMENT PARTY

Whilst engagement parties are characterised by their sense of humming excitement and guaranteed fun, they are a little more involved than throwing some cocktail weiners on toothpicks and calling it a day.

BY ANNU

We've broken down all elements of how the party should proceed, as well as the pros and cons of throwing this potential event. So don't dial your party planner until you've read through our basics!

Before proceeding any further, it's worth taking a step back and asking yourself whether it really is worth the time, money and effort to set up an engagement party. An engagement party is by no means mandatory, so this is a case of dancing to the beat of your own drums.

This depends mainly on two things; the date of the wedding and the seasonal opportunity. Some people have their party literally on the same day as the engagement, but more commonly, it's held within one to three months of the announcement. Those who are having a more formal engagement party may leave it for later on, as the general rule.

Although traditionally the engagement party is hosted either by the bride's parents or a close friend of hers, these rigid customs are becoming very relaxed. Today, the party can be held by either the bride or groom's parents, a close friend of the couple, or the couple themselves.

If no one volunteers to host the event, you should host it yourself. Again, this is considered to be within the parameters of modern etiquette and a very common practice. You shouldn't impose on anybody by asking them to hold an event for your benefit if they don't express the natural and unpressured desire to do so themselves.

There are no rules or norms for engagement parties- this will depend solely on your personal style and budget. It can be as formal or informal as you choose, and at any time of the day.

The engagement party is a great opportunity for members of the bride and groom's respective families to meet and get to know each other. Invite the same people you're intending to invite to the wedding.

If you forget to invite anyone to the engagement party, you can still invite them to the wedding without coming off as rude, but do not invite anyone to your engagement party whom you know you will not be inviting to the wedding- that is considered a clear etiquette no-no.

Apart from family, often there are work and sport colleagues that you may want to invite. Obviously the guests will need to be invited one way or another. If you are organised enough, you could include engagement party invitations with your stationery order, save a few dollars and be consistent with the other wedding events.

- Would they be using our photographs in their social media or their websites for promotion?
- Would they be selling our photographs to any blog writers or magazines for their promotion?

Payments and Package Types

Once all basic and technical questions are asked then now it is time to go for the final round of questions and that is the single most deciding factor as everyone works on budgets for their wedding.

- If they have different packages types (Eg: diamond, gold and silver packages) then what would be the cost variations and inclusions of each packages?
- If they are customizing to our style of photography, then what would be the price tag for it?
- Any complimentary services they would provide in the package like a photo booth etc?
- Is there any combo packages or discount offer, if we book them for pre-wedding Photography?
- Would they do editing or colour adjustments if required? If so, does that come at an extra cost and what would be those charges?
- How many hours are included in the package chosen ?
- If extra hours are added last minute then how would they charge for the extra hours?
- Do they accept cash / credit or debit card payments or bank transfer?
- Would we get bills for the amount paid?
- Do they charge for travelling to the venue?
- What would be the deposit amount and timelines for payments?
- Do they allow payments in installments?
- What would be their cancellation policy?
- How many days prior should we book them?

Booking a wedding photographer could be overwhelming and that is exactly why we are preparing you for the process. Keep these questions with you while you strike a deal with the wedding photographer.

BEST SANGEET SONGS FOR BRIDES AND GROOMS

List of the Best Sangeet Songs

Sangeet ceremony describes a celebratory event usually held one day before wedding. It is a ceremony in the Indian traditional wedding named after the word sangeet which means music and rightfully so sangeet ceremony translated itself to a Music night with lot of THUMKAS and peppy dance numbers where the entire family either performs to choreographed dance movements or let their hair down and do impromptu dance moves. Be it choreographed or impromptu, the sangeet night will never fail to entertain everyone present in the Mehfil.

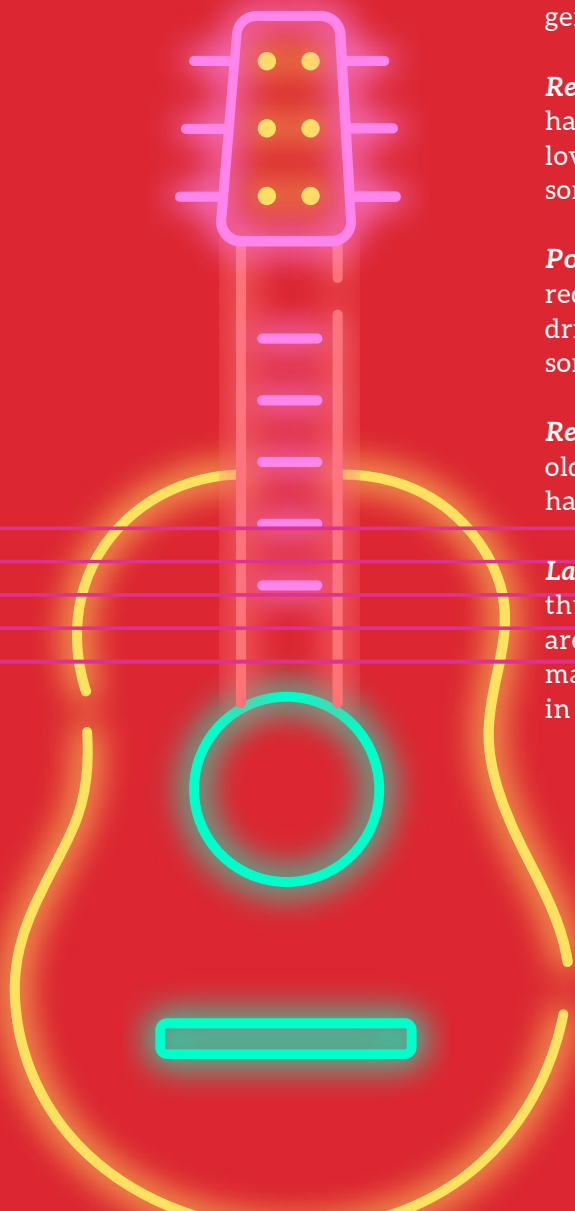

We have handpicked mixed playlist of Bollywood songs for both brides and grooms that includes the following genre.

Retro - 80's songs that are hard hitting, nostalgic and have defined the Bollywood music industry. Aside from love songs they have started the momentum of dance songs during this decade.

Popular 90's - The evergreen and romantic 90's have redefined Bollywood and have set path for melody driven love songs. Thoughtful lyrics and expressive songs are the landmarks for the 90's songs.

Remix Versions - Recreating the popular renditions of old Hindi film songs, Qawwali and popular desi songs have become a new trend in Bollywood.

Plates With Rishi

Hello Reader, so let me just introduce myself to start a conversation with you all. My name is 'Rishita Santra' I am happily married and by profession working in a reputed MNC in Bangalore as a Lead, Engineer.

I don't consider cooking as a house hold chores, rather do it as a passion. I just love to cook and to feed others. Since my childhood, I had this curiosity that how my mom's get into that small room we call as 'Kitchen' and after few hours she comes back with loads of mouthwatering delicious dishes every day. Many a times I used to help my mom in kitchen in my free time and listen to all my mother's and my late granny's cooking stories, how they used to dip in their secret masala and tricks in the recipe to add that magical taste. It always kept me excited.

Now, with my daily work schedule its been little difficult to pursue the same zest for cooking but somehow, I am managing it very well . At last with lots of motivation from my hubby and my family started my cooking channel in YouTube and a page in Instagram. Initially, I was so camera shy that to shoot just an intro of my video takes 10 retakes, yes I agree on that. LOL!!

But as time passes by my passion for the cooking and sharing my recipes hold me back strongly and now I take 2-3 retakes, and likely to progress in future . Even more than 1k followers in my Instagram account boost my energy to make new content every day. I believe that it's not the ingredients which makes the food tasty, it's always the warmth and love of the one who is making that food make it worthy enough. We should always respect food and the one who is making it for us, starting from our farmers who sow them to the one who cooks for us.

Food should be always respected and never be wasted.

"There are people in the world so hungry, that God cannot appear to them except in the form of bread."

- Mahatma Gandhi

Salad

a cold dish of various mixtures of raw or cooked vegetables, usually seasoned with oil, vinegar, or other dressing and sometimes accompanied by meat, fish, or other ingredients.
